Level: B1, B2

Name: _____ Date: _____

Gerund or infinitive?

After one verb, English may require the -ing form (enjoy swimming), the to-infinitive (decide to go), or either — sometimes with a change of meaning (stop smoking vs stop to smoke).

Gerund after: enjoy, finish, avoid, suggest, mind, practice, keep, can't stand + -ing

Infinitive after: decide, want, hope, plan, promise, agree, refuse, learn + to + verb

Either, same meaning: start, begin, continue, like, love (I like reading / to read)

Either, different meaning: stop, remember, forget, try: I stopped smoking ≠ I stopped to smoke

After prepositions: always the gerund: good at drawing, interested in learning
